
The book is intended as an introductory text in the teaching of agriculture as a whole. It is divided into the following chapters: (1) The purpose of agriculture (2) A systems approach to agriculture. Ways of booking at agricultura systems: the problem of description. Biological efficiency in